THE FIGHT TO SAVE SAM'S

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW schoolboy is urging residents to back a campaign he has started to save a youth club for children with special needs.

Callum Broad (12), of Northbrooks, was so upset after reading the Star's report about Harlow Council's plans to cut services at Sam's Place that he immediately organised a petition to save the youth club that does so much to support his older brother, Aaran.

Callum, a pupil at Passmores School, has already been busy passing around copies of the petition and posters at school but wants to drum up even more support to try and stop £15,000 of cuts being made to the centre.

"Sam's Place is so great and my brother really loves it," he said. "They help him and the other kids to do all sorts of things that they would never get to do otherwise and some of his best friends are there."

Aaran suffers from a range of disabilities including global developmental delay, ADHD, epilepsy and partial blindness. "He still doesn't quite understand about the cuts," said Callum. "I just don't know how we are going to tell him; it is going to be so hard."

Plans to withdraw services from the Fold Croft Centre were originally announced at the group's weekly evening youth club session two weeks ago.

Shocked parents were told that the Thursday sessions will be scrapped from the beginning of next morning, while Saturday afternoon sessions would be axed during school holidays.

Callum's dad Adrian said: "The worst thing is that in January we were promised that there wouldn't be any funding cuts to this service, so it really did come as a shock."

"There are so many other things that they could cut that have a paid-for service – the Playhouse is one that springs to mind. But they have decided to turn against the one and only facility available for disabled youngsters in the area where they can have a bit of independence and enjoy playing with their friends."

He added: "When Callum saw the article in the Star he just went white. He attends Sam's Place with Aaran from time to time so really knows just how much it will affect him when it closes down."

"We are really proud of everything he is doing and just hope that the council reconsiders their decision which, frankly, I think is absolutely disgusting."

Last week Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson said "tough budget choices" meant that the services offered at the centre had to be cut back. But following the public outcry councillor Joel

Gym boss caught up in the terror of Japan earthquake

A MARTIAL arts instructor visiting Japan for a competition has spoken of the terrifying moment when the country was struck by Friday's earthquake.

Brett Sizeland (29), owner of Concept Fitness in Epping, was walking in central Tokyo with a client when they felt the tremors.

"There was no warning," Brett, pictured right, told the Star. "Before we knew it buildings were shaking. We guessed it was an earthquake but when it just kept going we didn't know what was going on.

"People were running out into the streets screaming but no-one spoke any English. It was very scary.

"I remember looking up and thinking 'this doesn't look good' because the buildings were shaking so violently. It was like being on a boat."

After the initial quake hit, Brett was made to sit outside for almost five hours whilst ongoing tremors struck the city.

"At one point when it was thought to be safe we were allowed back into the hotel. We got to the 10th floor when the whole building started shaking again. It was terrifying, we just ran straight back outside."

Brett said the earthquake brought the entire capital city to standstill.

"I've never seen anything like it," he said. "There wasn't any public transport running and all the motorways were completely jammed up. And with the nuclear threat we were told to stay indoors if it rained in case of contamination."

The disaster, which triggered a tsunami across the north-eastern region of Japan, is estimated to have killed more than 10,000 people.

"Living through it just makes you appreciate how lucky we are to live in a country like the UK," added Brett. "It has certainly been a memorable first trip to Japan."

Town centre plans back on the table

PLANS for the redevelopment of the neglected northern end of Harlow town centre are back on track, according to council chiefs.

The authority revealed this week it is ready to re-start the tendering process following the sudden withdrawal of developers and main investors Stockland from the scheme in May last year.

The proposals have been scaled back from the ambitious scope of the original plans and will now concentrate on the regeneration of Stone Cross and the surrounding area to create open plan squares, a multi-screen cinema, flagship department store, restaurants, cafes and new retail units.

The scheme – originally dubbed Town Centre North – has been rebranded as the Stone Cross Redevelopment to reflect the changes, although the blueprints developed by Stockland and purchased by the council following the firm's withdrawal are still expected to form the basis of the redevelopment.

With the formal publication of the tender notice expected in mid-May, the council is confident it will have appointed a new commercial partner for the project by November.

Russell Perrin, chairman of the council's regeneration and enterprise working group, said there was a "renewed appetite" among developers for ambitious town centre redevelopment schemes.

"We think the time is now right for this project," he said. "It is well-defined and offers major opportunities for retailers in a vibrant town centre just 25 miles from London."

"We have already had informal talks with major retailers and they recognise that Harlow is a town ripe for this sort of development."

"It will bring with it some visually striking new public areas so absolutely builds on Harlow's heritage as an open and attractive place to work and shop."

Developers are expected to go onto a shortlist in September this year with formal confirmation of the successful applicant in late November or early December. Work is likely to start in 2013 for completion by 2016.

The project has cross-party support on the council, but Harlow Civic Society vice-chairman John Curry said his group – set up to preserve and protect the town's heritage – still had reservations about the scheme.

"We would like to see a far more inclusive, coherent approach to this redevelopment," he told the Star.

"Although Stone Cross is an ideal place to begin the project, we would rather see the plans started on from scratch in a bid to preserve as much of what we already have as possible rather than knocking it all down."

He added: "We have long argued against the piecemeal regeneration of the town. I can only hope that the successful applicant strives to link the town centre with its neighbouring residential areas to make it feel like less of a concrete island cordoned off by a dual carriageway."

Pets' Corner shows off n-e-we kids on the block

SPRING has finally arrived at Pets' Corner with the arrival of some sprightly new additions

Four lambs were born last Tuesday, followed by another the next day and a further six over the weekend!

Staff are keeping a close eye on the ewes and lambs, helping out by bottle feeding the newborns and keeping them warm under heat lamps.

All the ewes are long-term residents of Pets' Corner and two are first-time mums.

Joel Charles, chairman of the council's

community and citizenship

policy working group, said:

"All lambs are doing extremely well and are being looked after by their mums and staff at Pets' Corner."

"Over the next few weeks, we have plenty more lambs expected and some lucky visitors may even see one born!"

Charles, chairman of the community and citizenship working party, has agreed to meet with parents tonight (Thursday) to discuss the proposals.

He said: "I understand the parents' concerns over the loss of the Thursday youth club and the council is working hard to fill that gap."

"We will continue to provide the popular Saturday club and holiday playschemes at Sam's Place and we are finding other options for the users of the Thursday night session."

"The decision over the Thursday night session was a very tough one, but in the end we had to put our money behind services where there is the clearest user demand."

He added: "Of course that's a decision we would rather not have taken, but we are in a tight financial climate where keeping basic services afloat is now a fight."

Getting down to business in aid of hospice

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A BUSINESS trainer has agreed to share his knowledge on how to run a successful company to raise money for St Clare Hospice.

Nick Ruddle, who works for the firm ActionCOACH, decided to hold the Leverage event not only to raise awareness and money for the hospice, but to also give business owners the opportunity to learn about how to improve their operations.

The fundraising evening will be held at the Park Inn Hotel, in Southern Way, Harlow. It has agreed to host and cater the event free of charge in support of the hospice.

People attending will be exposed to more than 400 new business strategies and learn how to play the new marketing board game, Leverage.

Nick, who lives in Bishop's Stortford, said: "I decided to run this event as I thought it would be a win-win situation for all.

"People who attend will learn new ways of improving their business, be given the opportunity to network with other business owners in the local community and be supporting St Clare Hospice, all at the same time.

"I hope that by taking part people will have a lot of fun, help to raise a lot of money and go away having learnt a lot of new and important business strategies so that they, too, can make a lot of money one day."

St Clare Hospice corporate fundraiser Clive Gillam added: "We extend our warmest thanks to Nick for organising the event in aid of the hospice and a big thank-you to the Park Inn for not only providing the venue but also the buffet and welcome drink.

"We really appreciate the help of local businesses to help raise vital funds for the hospice. We hope that many companies can attend and help make the night a success!"

The event takes place next Thursday (March 24). Registration is at 5.30pm for a 6pm start and refreshments will be provided. The registration fee is £25.

To take part, visit the website at www.actioncoach.com/nickruddle/promo/stclareleverage.

Make a splash at charity swim

KEEN swimmers are being asked to take the plunge and raise money for a charity supporting families coping with dementia.

The Harlow branch of the Alzheimer's Society's will be holding its annual sponsored swim on Saturday, with organisers hoping to beat last year's total of £3,129.

The fundraiser, which takes place in the Stewards School pool, is open to people of all ages and abilities, with each swimmer setting their own distance target.

Jade Rolph, community fundraiser for the Alzheimer's Society in Essex, said: "There are more than 12,000 people with dementia in Essex today and this figure is expected to rise to more than 17,000 by the year 2021.

"The society supports people to live well with dementia today and funds research to find a cure for tomorrow. We rely on voluntary donations to continue our vital work."

For more information or to take part in the swim, call Roy Harris on (01279) 418331.

Forum seeking more members

A NEW forum to promote and speak for multi-cultural communities in the Harlow area is looking for more people to join.

The Harlow BME Forum, which gets together every six weeks to discuss and address issues of integration, participation and representation in the local community, wants more people from ethnic minorities to share their experiences.

The forum promotes the rights and needs of black and ethnic groups and, through the New Generation Development Agency, offers support to those affected by discrimination.

NGDA director Sangita Mitti said: "We have forums all over Essex, though currently Harlow is the baby of the bunch and could really do with some more members.

"The forums provide a really good opportunity for people to speak out about any problems they have encountered and to also learn about all the different services that are available to help them."

For more information, visit www.newgenerationdevelopmentagency.org.uk or email info@ngdalt.co.uk.

Lottery winners

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the weekly St Clare Hospice lottery is ticket holder 860713. The winner lives in Sawbridgeworth. The second prize of £100 goes to ticket holder 681959, who lives in Harlow.

Children's TV favourite a huge hit at supermarket

A VISIT from a children's television star to a Harlow supermarket has helped to raise more than £1,500 for a national charity.

When word got out that Peppa Pig was popping in to the Asda store at The Water Gardens, hundreds of fans turned up to say hello and have a cuddle.

The children's favourite was on a tour of 10 Asda stores around the country to raise money and awareness for Tommy's, a charity funding medical research into miscarriage, stillbirth and premature birth and providing information on having a healthy baby.

Asda spokesperson Rachel Forth said: "We had such a great visit from Peppa Pig and we've managed to raise £1,681 so far because our customers are fantastic at giving towards our charities.

"The store was absolutely bombarded with people wanting to meet Peppa Pig and both the children and parents loved it."

Motorcyclist killed in crash on village road

WITNESSES have spoken of the desperate roadside struggle to save the life of a motorcyclist from Harlow who died following a crash in Hatfield Broad Oak on Saturday afternoon.

Andy Cooper (47), of Greygoose Park, was thrown from his bike after it collided with a car on the B183 at Feathers Hill.

Other drivers rushed to help the married father-of-two as he lay on the ground some way from the bike, which had burst into flames in the middle of the road following the smash.

Gilly Dowell, of High Street, Hatfield Broad Oak, was with daughter Charlotte when they came across the scene of the accident.

"The motorbike was on fire and in the distance there was a car on the verge," she said "I went to see if there was anything I could do and my daughter dialled 999 from her mobile.

"There was an off-duty police officer who came running up. He started CPR and he was doing that for 10-15 minutes before the ambulance arrived."

She added: "It was horrible to see. I have not witnessed anything like it before."

Despite efforts to resuscitate Mr Cooper, he was pronounced dead at the scene.

The driver of the car, a 42-year-old local man, was uninjured.

Anyone with information about the accident should call Essex Police on 0300 333 4444.

Visitors' anger at PAH parking fines

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ANGRY motorists using the car park at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital have criticised the firm responsible for issuing fines to visitors' vehicles parked in unmarked bays.

While some signs warn drivers that a fine will be issued for cars that are not parked in bays, not all do. This has led to claims that the situation is unclear.

The company that enforces the rules, Excel Parking Services Ltd, has also been accused of showing a lack of compassion when told of the sensitive circumstances of some of those appealing against their fines.

Harlow resident Margaret Fusco, who received a ticket after parking on a grass verge while visiting her gravely-ill son at the hospital, said she was amazed the company could be "so heartless".

"I was so upset to come back after such an emotional time at the hospital and find that I had got a ticket," she said. "I phoned the company up the next day and was told to appeal which I did.

"The appeal was rejected and I was made to pay the fine. If visiting your dying son isn't enough of a reason then I really don't know what is. I think they are absolutely disgusting."

Alan Walker, who lives in Norfolk, received a ticket for not parking in a bay while visiting his mother at hospital. He said he believed the company wanted people to continue parking in unmarked bays to make money.

making con and is absolutely appalling, especially when it is affecting people who have much graver things to worry about then waiting for a marked bay to become available."

An Excel spokesman said parking regulations were clearly displayed across the site and it was motorists' responsibility to ensure they park within the rules.

"The signage throughout the car park clearly states that vehicles must be parked within a designated bay and any vehicle contravening these terms and conditions is subject to receiving a parking charge notice.

"It is entirely the motorist's responsibility to satisfy themselves before leaving the vehicle that they are not contravening any terms and conditions."

A PAH spokeswoman said the hospital was currently looking at ways of increasing the capacity of the visitors' car park to avoid problems in the future.

"We do recognise people's concerns and are currently reviewing the capacity and use of the car park across the entire site with the view of adding a further 100 spaces," she added.

"If it was such an issue then why would they not just put up more signs or place some bollards in the areas visitors are not meant to park in?" he said.

"I think it is a massive money-

Hospital protest over health service reform

TRADE unionists and Harlow Labour Party members staged a protest outside Princess Alexandra Hospital on Thursday to voice their opposition to the Government's plans to reform the National Health Service.

The group handed out leaflets calling on Health Secretary Andrew Lansley to rethink proposals to transfer £80m of the NHS budget and commissioning powers to GP consortia while enabling private health firms to compete for work.

David Forman, press officer for Harlow Trade Union Council, said: "The coalition's plans for the NHS will see foundation trusts competing for work against any willing private providers, which will inevitably lead to staff reductions, cuts in pay, less research and development and reduced training opportunities.

"The waste and cost of competition due to advertising, marketing and administration will mean less money for patient care or they will recoup this wasted money by reducing staff costs."

He added: "We want to show the Government people power in action and save our NHS."

Harlow TUC will lay on coaches to take protesters to a demonstration march in London on March 26.

Benefits reform throws a spanner in the works

SIR, I write with reference to the proposed partnership between Harlow and Uttlesford councils which will result in the relocation of Uttlesford's revenues and benefits staff to Harlow and the implementation of a joint IT system.

The Coalition Government's attempt to simplify benefits, are becoming more detailed by the day. Universal Credit will result in a move from benefits work being administered by councils to the Department of Work and Pensions. This will take effect from October 2013 until the DWP take over full administration in 2017.

It is believed that the rate of transfer from local authorities to DWP will be accelerated in order to meet the DWP's own administration savings targets. It therefore follows that during this time, as the DWP staff take over this work, there will obviously need to be a matching reduction in council benefits staff until finally there will be no-one working in this capacity within councils across the country.

When the Harlow and Uttlesford partnership was first proposed early in 2010, Universal Credit was just a twinkling in Iain Duncan Smith's eye. Now its implications are clearer, surely the partnership proposals need to be looked at again?

The current incumbents in the council, so caught-up with the partnership proposal, will no doubt deny that there is an issue or state that they are employing a consultant to look into the implications of Universal Credit on the partnership proposals. However, I feel a consultant will not be prepared to listen – as it appears that management and councillors have not – as it will be in the consultant's financial interests to continue with the consultancy in delivering the partnership.

I fully realise the initial reason behind the partnership was to make savings but I ask the council, with so much changing, if there is little point in proceeding at this current time? I really do not believe it will be possible to deliver the envisaged savings.

My aim in writing this letter is to try to protect taxpayers' money (even if these proposals are being financed by a grant, it is still being paid for by the taxpayer), especially with the current financial state of the country.

Unfortunately, history tells me that my warning will not be heeded. Our money will be spent on implementing the partnership at great cost to the taxpayer and the savings predicted will not be met. And once again, with the consultants long gone, and a political change in council members or senior council staff moving onto pastures new, no-one will be around to be held accountable when the proposed savings do not come into fruition.

Such is the way councils are run.

Danger to pedestrians

SIR, I am writing to highlight the very dangerous crossing on Cambridge Road by the Harlow Mill pub and Riverside Court.

The crossing is just before the start of Old Road. Cars are not meant to turn right out of this road but the problem is drivers do it all the time and because the crossing is designed to go green for pedestrians to cross and the same time go green for cars to turn left only out of Old Road, this causes a really dangerous hazard.

As you can imagine, people are crossing and then

Sam's Place is a haven for my son

SIR, With reference to your report about the impending closure of the youth club at Sam's Place, I have a son who has autism with attention deficit hyperactivity disorder. He attends Harlow Field School and has been going to Sam's Place for five years.

I have been to most of the clubs in Harlow and have been told by the staff that they do not have the training to cope with his destructive behaviour and so I cannot take him there.

He has also experienced bullying from the other children and therefore did not like the clubs and did not feel safe attending.

This has made me feel that I cannot approach any other club in Harlow as they do not have the equipment or the training to help children like my son play in a comfortable and safe environment.

However, Sam's Place offers all children an environment with fully trained staff and even some specialist equipment. It offers a much wider range of activities, some of which might normally be unavailable to children who need specialist care. It may not seem difficult for a parent to take their child out for a meal or to the cinema, but for many of the parents whose children attend Sam's Place this may have seemed impossible before.

The staff have the ability to make all activities accessible and to encourage the children to develop the social skills to interact with their peers in a positive way. For example, when he began to experience some bullying, they acted immediately to help him and his friend communicate in a positive way and they have remained friends ever since.

Children like my son can really relax and be themselves without worrying about possible confrontation with others. If the other clubs in Harlow don't get the appropriate training to cope, the closure of the youth club will deprive these children of the one place they can go to be themselves and enjoy the benefit of communication that is tailored to their needs.

I know my son trusts the staff at Sam's Place and I feel confident that he is safe and well cared for while he is there.

SIR, I am writing to complain about the disgusting and disgraceful way Harlow Council treats disabled children.

It is obvious that the faceless bureaucrats in their ivory towers don't give a damn about disabled children. Harlow has the worst provisions for disabled children in Essex and now they are being cut.

There is nowhere else for these children to go to let their hair down and give their parents and siblings a break. As David Cameron keeps banging on about the Big Society, why don't councillors and council bureaucrats do some voluntary work and look after these children.

Perhaps they could give me some suggestions where I can take my 14-year-old mentally disabled son and leave him for two hours so my wife, myself and our two other children can do something together.

being confronted by cars on this busy road. The most annoying part is that the cars turning right start hooting at the pedestrians crossing the road as though it's their fault for crossing in front of the cars.

This must be addressed urgently and cars must stop pulling out of Old Road and turning right. I am really worried that someone is going to get seriously hurt at this pedestrian crossing.

Update on muddy track

SIR, As the councillor for Netteswell, I would like to reply to last week's letter from residents of The Downs about the footpath being a muddy track.

The issue was brought to me by a couple of residents of The Downs who started a petition to get something done about this footpath. I have been out to see residents and the state of this path a number of times and have been working with officers at both Harlow Council and Essex County Council to get a result.

The fact of the matter, for information purposes, are as follows. Site meetings have taken place between officers from both councils and it was agreed something needed to be done. However, the public footpath is the part that has been done to date – namely from Green Park/Greenhills to the Second Avenue bus stop. This is the responsibility of the county council and has now been done.

The bit connecting The Downs to this public footpath is a much-used track but is not a public footpath. Strictly speaking, therefore, nothing needs to be done, but since it is so well used I am fighting to get this bit done by Harlow Council once the new budgets come online on April 1.

All of this has taken time as all works need to be subject to the bidding process so that all the work is done at the best cost to the taxpayer. I know this seems silly to residents but this is how it sometimes is in local government. I'm working to get a result and when I do the residents of The Downs will be the first to know!

Curbing the bully boys

SIR, I do not normally aim to continue correspondence in the letters pages but Paul Topley's letter fills me with a dread ("Every child deserves equal opportunities", March 3).

He comments about "fair, egalitarian and democratic education" but I think masquerading behind the Harlow Against The Cuts banner is a little suspicious. It is the cry of bully boy politics that led to the Castle Bromwich Spitfire strike of 1940 which deprived us of valuable fighters in the run up to the Battle of Britain, caused the loss of the British motor industry, countless dockers' strikes and the public alienation of the miners and their consequent destruction by central government.

Being taught by the 'rabid right' and 'loony left' alike, who fought their way across half of Europe on two occasions, did me no harm, but I can recognise them when I see them and treat these two imposters the same. Mr Topley's idea of an educational system is, presumably, the last government's quasi-democratic notion of parents chasing places at their school of choice at the other end of town, thereby increasing their carbon footprint, being forced to use their local school with a pointless 'specialism' or paying through the nose to find something more appetising.

If we have managed to swing an academy in Harlow, then good for us! Let's have more of them, put one at the other end of town as well on the old Passmores site and we may even save the planet at the same time.

He ignores, conveniently, the main thrust of my letter that whichever system of education is in place, none will work unless we put in place steps to curb the bully boys who are the root of low attainment in any school.

Boundaries must remain

SIR, I was pleased to see that after signing the West Essex Investment Plan, the chief executives of Harlow, Uttlesford and Epping Forest councils have agreed that none of these councils will seek to instigate a boundary change where new housing is developed close to a boundary other than through mutual agreement.

Also, if a boundary review is instigated by a third party, the affected councils will work together to ensure the proposed changes are not to the detriment of either council, particularly in relation to the New Homes Bonus and nomination rights to affordable housing.

This is significant because for a number of years some members of Harlow Council have argued that the tax revenues from any development north of Harlow in East Herts should flow to Harlow Council. East Herts has always rejected this notion. Now the matter is settled and a precedent has been set. As STOP Harlow North has always argued, building in East Herts will not help the regeneration of Harlow.

The overall messages from East Herts Council's consultation on their Local Development Framework are clear: 89 per cent of all respondents supported the SHN campaign stance opposing Harlow North, 99 per cent of respondents in the area immediately impacted by the proposals supported the SHN campaign stance and not a single person in Eastwick, Gilston, Allen's Green, High Wych, Hunsdon, Widford, Much Hadham or Little Hadham supported the proposals for Harlow North. I do hope Harlow Council will now respect the expressed wishes of the residents of East Herts. This would be localism in action.

Another victim of dogma

SIR, Blink and you miss another closure. What on earth is happening to our local community?

A few weeks ago we were told our public toilets were being closed down. A week later we were told the public car park at Burnt Mill Lock is being closed down.

How do the vast majority of people find out these issues? In the local press. So much for the council having a dedicated manager team leading on the Big Society. More like the big silence.

We also have a number of Tory county councillors who appear to have disappeared and gone silent on the Burnt Mill Lock car park proposal.

Why is no Tory county councillor standing up against this plan to close the car park that allows access to the river? Or is this simple Tory dogma and a programme of death by a thousand cuts.

This is about our town and our values and, yes, values do include public access and public toilets. So if Tory councillors really believe in the Big Society, then start representing your community.

Thug sentenced to hospital detention

A THUG who carried out what a judge described an "appalling" attack on a young man in Harlow has been detained in hospital under the Mental Health Act.

Carl Paterson (21), of Brenthall Towers, Potter Street, Harlow, pleaded guilty to causing actual bodily to Jay Messenger when the case was heard at Chelmsford Crown Court last September.

During the hearing the court was told Paterson and a second defendant – Mark James – celebrated the attack with "hugs and high-fives".

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

Prosecutor Nueka Akudolu said Mr Messenger had been in a nightclub until the early hours before the attack in April of last year.

She said a fight had broken out and Patterson started punching Mr Messenger. James (23), also of Brenthall Towers, joined in and after the victim fell to the floor the pair continued to hit his face, even when he rolled himself up in a ball.

"As the pair left the scene they could be seen hugging each other and giving what appears to be a high five but were arrested soon afterwards," said Ms Akudolu.

Judge Karen Walden-Smith said: "This was a violent town centre assault. Plainly, you had been drinking extraordinary quantities of alcohol that fuelled the violence meted out to a victim who was trying to stop fighting and for his trouble received injuries."

James was jailed for 18 months after pleading guilty to causing actual bodily harm, but Patterson was made the subject of an interim hospital order for further psychiatric assessment.

On Friday Paterson returned to the Crown Court where when Judge Anthony Goldstaub imposed the hospital order.

"This was an absolutely appalling offence," he told the defendant. "I hope it was as a result of mental illness otherwise it would have been very wicked."

The judge added it would be for the hospital authorities to decide when Paterson was fit for release.

Chelmsford Crown Court heard that he had 13 previous convictions for 33 offences but had received a psychiatric assessment after suffering worse problems around the time of the assault.

Paul lets Red Nose Day go to his head

A BAD hair day can be traumatic enough, but imagine choosing to extend the experience for an entire week!

That's what coffee shop owner Paul Freakley has done as part of the build-up to Red Nose Day tomorrow (Friday).

Paul, who owns Traders Coffee and Snack Bar in Harlow's Harvey Centre, allowed hairdressers at The Cube salon in Little Walk to do their wackiest to his locks to raise money for the charity event.

The 46-year-old, who lives in Cambridge, has been running his sponsored 'bad hair week' every Red Nose Day year since 2005.

"The hairdressers at The Cube certainly enjoy being given full reign to do their craziest to my head every two years!" he said. "Everyone gets involved and there is always a lot of different coloured hair dye going into the process."

"The reaction of my customers is always very enthusiastic, which is what it is all about. I like supporting Comic Relief as the money goes towards helping lots of different charities and it's always a lot of fun."

Paul is hoping to raise a minimum of £400 this year from his collection box and sponsorship forms and has agreed to let the highest sponsor shave his head at the end of the week.

The shop will also be selling coffee for £1 a cup all day on Friday and donating 20p from each one sold to the total.

"We obviously want to try to make as much money as possible for Comic Relief and put some smiles on people's faces at the same time," said Paul. "Every bit helps and I would only encourage more people to come down and have a look for themselves!"

The passing of a solitary man

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ALTHOUGH it is now more than a month since we wrote about the Harlow Hermit – whose real name was Charlie Haddock – the memories are still pouring in.

So much so that local history officer David Devine decided it was time to make his own investigations into this colourful character. It was time well spent for he made quite a discovery – Charlie's obituary.

It appeared in the Harlow Citizen on February 9, 1952 and reiterates many of the comments made by Star readers, as well as revealing even more about this mysterious local legend.

So this week we reprint the obituary, which was headlined 'Death of Charlie the Hermit'. This is how it read:

'Charlie the Hermit', who became almost a legendary figure around Harlow and Sawbridgeworth, died on Thursday of last week at his caravan which he had on land owned by Mr. Jack Roberts – a farmer.

Charlie – Mr. Charles Haddock – who was 81 and a bachelor, lived a solitary life and for over 23 years he lived in a hollow in the ground on the bank of the River Stort between Harlow and Sawbridgeworth. Before that he lived for three-and-a-half years in a tree in Epping Forest.

He developed his liking for an open-air life whilst living in Australia and Canada after serving with the Forces in the First World War. When he returned to England he found he could not stand life in London so he started his life of solitude in Epping Forest.

In May 1958 'Charlie the Hermit' had to go to hospital and whilst he was away his shanty home on the river bank was destroyed. On his discharge from hospital he spent some time in a home for ex-Service men but he could not be kept from Harlow. In the following November he returned to live in a caravan he had brought.

Charlie had an impressive figure, was over six feet tall with a mass of white hair. He was fond of children and would welcome them to his home on the river bank and entertain them with his knowledge of nature.

The funeral service was on Tuesday at Colchester Cemetery.

Do you have any other memories about Charlie that you'd like to share? Write to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

DO YOU REMEMBER: Harlow Sports Shield

DID your Scout troop ever win the annual Harlow Sports Shield?

The 15th Harlow Scouts did in the early 1960s, as can be seen in this picture sent in by Bill Lewis of Chapel Fields.

Bill, then around 12-years-old and a budding photographer, remembers taking the picture of his Scout chums following their sporting success.

"All the Scouts in the area used to take part in the Sports Shield," he explained. "There were all sorts of different events throughout the day and everyone would get involved."

"We had great fun in those days, not only with sports but with camping overnight in the Town Park – something you can't do nowadays."

Bill (62) says that although he knows that a few of the boys in the picture still live in Harlow, he has lost touch with most of the others. "I wonder where they all are and if they still have recollections of 15th Harlow?"

Do you remember the Harlow Sports Shield? Were you a Scout in the 15th Harlow troop between 1962 and 1964? Send your memories to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or send an email to vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

College rag mag banned

Harlow College's new rag magazine was banned within hours of going on sale on Friday. Full of sexual jokes and featuring a cartoon of a naked woman on the back cover, the magazine was withdrawn following complaints from staff and students. Representatives from Harlow women's centre, for whom some of the magazine's proceeds had been intended, denounced the magazine as "racist, sexist, juvenile and unfunny".

Pupils lunch at home

Pupils were being sent home at lunchtime today when teachers closed their schools for an hour. The action was part of a national protest against the Government to establish a countryside agreement over the supervision of children during the lunch break.

Protest over sackings

A recently formed print workers' support committee is to picket the premises of WH Smiths in Broad Walk on Saturday to urge people not to buy newspapers produced at 'Fortress Wapping'. The protest is in response to the sacking of 6,000 striking print workers – 12 of them from Harlow – by Rupert Murdoch at his News International plant.

Totally tropical centre

Exotic foliage and tropical birds from faraway lands will be providing a romantic setting for Harvey Centre shoppers next week. The attraction, which opens on Monday, will also feature a pool, fountain and gazebo. It will run until the end of March after which it will be replaced by an English country display.

Town is entering a period of renewal

EVERYONE who uses our town centre will admit that, while the original design remains striking, parts may be showing their age.

That's no affront to Frederick Gibberd – after all, he always said he knew Harlow was a town that would evolve.

We've just taken the next step in that evolution by announcing we are ready to sign up a new property partner to redevelop the north of the town centre in a multi-million pound project.

This, you'll perhaps remember, was the scheme we consulted on in 2009 but that was shelved a year later when our then development partner withdrew because of the recession.

The good news is that, this May, we will officially invite the property world to build it for us. There will be a competitive pitch in which we hope to see really exciting proposals for a new cinema, shops, a department store and cafes – right in the heart of Harlow.

We hope to name the successful company this November.

Renewal isn't just about the town centre, of course. The other news is that we are now starting the process of replacing dozens of ageing bungalows on our estates. While there is a terrific strain on our housing stock – as with all councils – I am really pleased we are still able to offer comfortable new homes to residents.

The phrase “green shoots of recovery” is a cliché much overused in politics. But as you travel along Second Avenue in Harlow and enjoy the blaze of colour the flowers provide, it feels to me like new growth is in the air.

Our town was built on the principle that people could live in good homes near an attractive centre with green spaces running through it. I think our new town plans are perfect to continue that mission.

Child's words of grief that moved a judge to tears

A YOUNG girl's grief at the death of her father in a road accident as he cycled to work moved a judge to tears this week.

A statement by nine-year-old Zara, the youngest daughter of father-of-seven John Brace-Day, was read out at Luton Crown Court at the request of her mother.

In it she said: “I miss my daddy reading me bedtime stories. He used to take me on bike rides but I am not allowed a bike any more.”

“I went up two levels in English but I cannot tell my dad. I miss going out with my dad and his jokes and I am sad he will not see me grow up. I do not want to forget him. I will miss him on my birthday and I don't like Christmas now.”

Mr Brace-Day (54), pictured right, of High Wych Lane, High Wych, was struck by a lorry as he cycled along the A414 between Harlow and Stanstead Abbots on December 15, 2009.

Lorry driver Paul Winfield (36), of Stopsley, near Luton, was charged with causing death by dangerous driving and on Monday was jailed for 24 weeks after pleading guilty to the offence.

Sally Mealing-McLeod, prosecuting, said the accident happened at 7.30am. The lights on Mr Brace-Day's bike were on and he was wearing a high-visibility jacket and cycling close to the kerb.

The court was told Winfield has never been able to explain how he failed to see him. Experts said Mr Brace-Day would have been in his vision for at least 10 seconds and possibly as long as 18 seconds.

Miss Mealing-McLeod added that, while at the scene, Winfield said: “I was driving star@hertsexnews.co.uk

along and all of a sudden he was there. There was a car on my other side and I could not move and I hit the bike. I feel sick thinking about it.”

The lorry's tachograph showed he was driving at 53mph along the 50mph stretch of road and there had been no reduction in his speed in the seconds before the collision.

Alexander Williams, representing Winfield, said in mitigation: “It is an emotive case. He [Winfield] has read the impact statements from the family and each of them is deeply moving. He was clearly a much-loved husband, father and grandfather.”

“He bears responsibility for their tragic loss and he bears it heavily. To this day he cannot understand how he failed to detect Mr Brace-Day on his bicycle.”

“He was not distracted by anything and cannot offer any explanation, but he could not have been exercising the degree of care and attention that one would expect of him as an experienced professional driver.”

Passing sentence, judge Andrew Bright said: “The tragedy this case represents is beyond words. It is difficult to read the family's statements without tears forming.”

He told Winfield, who was also banned from driving for one year: “You had an unrestricted view for a minimum of 10 seconds in which to see him which is a very long time.”

“The most extraordinary thing of all is that you took no avoiding action at all. He bore no responsibility at all for what happened to him.”

Lily's singing wins music scholarship

A TALENTED young singer has been awarded a music scholarship to one of the best schools in the region.

Lily Hawthorne (11), a pupil at The Downs Primary School in Harlow, is one of only a few children to gain a scholarship to St Edmund's College near Ware.

Lily, of Parsonage Leys, impressed with her singing, a hobby that she has been pursuing for years.

“I love singing and have been doing it since I was about seven,” she said. “My favourite type of music is pop and rock, and my dream is to be a pop singer one day like Alexandra Burke. “I was over the moon when I found out that I had got the scholarship and am really looking forward

CCTV appeal results in arrest

POLICE have issued a fixed penalty notice to a 21-year-old man from Harlow for causing criminal damage to the front door of a town centre pub.

The man was arrested after a appeal for information about the incident at the William Aylmer pub on January 31 was published in the Star last week.

Police also released a CCTV picture of a suspect they wanted to question in connection with the incident.

Roof safety work at fire-hit estate now on schedule

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE first phase of safety improvement works to homes on the fire-ravaged Berecroft estate has now been completed following months of "unavoidable" delays.

The neighbourhood has been rocked by several devastating fires in recent years, and concern over the ease with which flames spread through the shared roofspace of terraced homes prompted housing association South Anglia to agree to fund a £3m programme of remedial works last year.

But after work on the initial block of four properties ground to a halt in December due to unforeseen structural problems, workmen have now finally completed the first phase of the £3m project.

And this week the housing association said it was confident that the roofs of all 226 homes affected will be replaced by the end of the year.

Tracy White, managing director for South Anglia, said: "We are as delighted as residents that the re-roofing programme is now in full swing.

"It is a massive undertaking but we're working really hard to minimise disruption to those living on the estate."

The existing timber-framed roofs are being replaced with modern, lightweight steel structures with firebreak walls, while fascias and soffits are being replaced with modern materials requiring less maintenance.

New guttering and downpipes are also being fitted to ensure good drainage.

A nine-strong residents' quality control team has been set up to keep an eye on how work is progressing, and team member Ted Thirley, who has lived in Berecroft since the estate was built in 1971, said he was impressed with work so far.

"I can now see the process of the roof being replaced and all the associated works," he said.

"I have to say I am really impressed with the consultation that South Anglia has provided and the overall professional approach to the works and resident involvement."

Work has now begun on a further two blocks of homes.

Lights on at 'hamburger' roundabout

TRAFFIC congestion caused by long-term roadworks on the A414 in Harlow should be eased after a new junction opened this week.

The 'hamburger' roundabout at the junction with Southern Way will allow the main flow of traffic onto the A414 to proceed straight across the roundabout under signal control.

The new junction is part of a £10m road widening scheme being carried out to the A414 between the M11 roundabout as Hastingwood and Southern Way.

Essex County Council chairman Rodney Bass and county councillor Norman

Hume, cabinet member for highways and transportation, were in Harlow on Tuesday for the switch on of the lights.

"The 'hamburger' roundabout will help to increase capacity on the junction and improve traffic flow on the A414," said Mr Hume.

"This is a key stage in the completion of the Harlow A414 dualling scheme which will deliver reduced congestion for motorists."

Pre-trial hearing in case of Tory peer's expenses claims

A PRE-trial hearing in the case of former Essex County Council leader Lord Hanningfield, who is accused of fiddling his expenses, was held at the Old Bailey on Monday.

Lord Hanningfield (70), who faces six charges of false accounting, did not attend the hearing.

It is alleged that between March 2006 and May 2009, Lord Hanningfield submitted claim forms to the House of Lords that he knew were false.

The charges are said to relate to overnight allowances for accommodation in London when records appeared to show he was driven to his home near Chelmsford.

Another hearing is due to take place next month and Lord Hanningfield's trial is set to take place at Southwark Crown Court in May.

Lord Hanningfield, who said at the time that his claims had been made in good faith, was suspended from the Parliamentary Conservative Party and stood down as a front bench business spokesman in the House of Lords and leader of Essex County Council.

Soap star Katy to make guest appearance at store's fun day

CORONATION Street star Katy Cavanagh will be swapping the cobbles of Weatherfield for the streets of Harlow when she attends a family fun day to celebrate the reopening of the Poundland store next week.

Katy, pictured above, who plays Julie Carp in the TV soap, will be in the Harvey Centre store on Saturday, March 26 to sign autographs and pose for pictures with fans of the show.

And from 10am she will be giving out £1 vouchers which can be exchanged for anything from batteries to greeting cards. An in-store DJ and entertainer will get shoppers in the party mood while bargain hunters can enter a "check-out" challenge with a chance of winning a £100 voucher.

Poundland will reopen two days earlier following refurbishment which has seen it expand into the former Blue Inc premises next door.

MORE than 100 people have already taken advantage of the 'early bird' offer and signed up for this year's St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk.

For the first time the hospice is holding a special promotion during the month of March. If you sign up with a friend BEFORE Thursday, March 31 the joint entry fee will only be £20.

That's just £10 per person, in return for which you will receive an 'I painted the town pink' T-shirt and goody bag.

From April 1 the entry fee will return to the normal £15 per person.

"It's so encouraging to see that we already have over 100 entries and it's only been a few weeks since this year's event was launched," said event fundraiser Tracy Stratford.

"People of all ages are taking part and forming teams from places such as work, school or friendship groups. The biggest team so far is a team of 16 mums and teachers from Bishop's Stortford College, but can anyone else get a bigger team together?"

The walk will begin at the Water Gardens in Harlow town centre at 10.30pm.

Organisers are hoping to persuade 1,500 ladies to take part in the 10k walk around Harlow on Saturday, June 18. Over the past three years a staggering £290,000 has been raised by the Midnight Walk and this year, with the Star's support, the hospice want to make it a total of £400,000.

"The Midnight Walk is a hugely popular event with participants coming from Harlow and surrounding areas," said St Clare's communication manager Giles Wright. "It's fantastic to see that we have hit over 100 sign-ups so far.

"The hospice provides specialist services to people in the local community who are living with a life-limiting illness. Every year it costs £2.6m to run the hospice and only 24 per cent of this is funded by the NHS, so we need you to get your glad rags on for a fun and eventful night out."

So come on ladies, gather your friends, family and colleagues, sign up and get choosing your pink outfits as this is guaranteed to be a fun night out with a difference!

You can register today online at www.stclarehospice.org.uk, call (01279) 773750 for a registration form or send off the coupon on this page.

JUMP TO IT: Events team members Tracy Stratford, Lindsey Nials, Laura Petchey and Laura Herring are delighted that the number of people already signed up to take part in this year's walk has broken the 100 barrier

“rites of spring

As the earth blooms and the sky sings, the mere thought of Spring has inspired poets and composers through the ages to celebrate the resurgence of life with sweet, buoyant thoughts. And Fishpools are celebrating the new season with the joys of fresh colours, soft textures and smart ideas. Sofas are sizzling or soporific. Bedrooms are dreamy and accommodating. Dining is elegant and inviting. Home Accessories are swanky, smart and desirable.

New collections include the smooth curved lines of the Delta dining range made from solid American white oak and veneers.

Industrial chic inspires the Cheshire range of dining & occasional furniture which uses reclaimed wood from domestic and industrial origins.

Draft Old Harlow Conservation Area Appraisal and Management Plan & Proposed Harlow Garden Village Conservation Area

Harlow Council has published the Draft Old Harlow Conservation Area Appraisal & Management Plan for consultation. The aims of the document are to:

- define the special architectural and historic interest of Old Harlow Conservation Area;
- review the Conservation Area boundaries and assess whether any further parts of the area should be given Conservation Area status;
- identify issues affecting the character of the area;
- highlight opportunities for preservation and enhancement;
- increase public awareness and involvement in the preservation of the area; and
- provide a framework for planning decisions within the Old Harlow Conservation Area.

How to view the document:

The document is available for downloading on the Council's website at:
www.harlow.gov.uk/conservation.

Paper copies of the document are available for inspection at Old Harlow Library and at the Council's offices at The Civic Centre during normal office hours.

How to have your say:

You can respond by:

- Completing a consultation questionnaire - available in local libraries, The Civic Centre, and at: <http://harlow.jdi-consult.net/ldf/>
- Submitting your comments via the Council's e-consultation portal at: <http://harlow.jdi-consult.net/ldf/>
- Email your comments to conservation@harlow.gov.uk
- Posting your comments to: The Forward Planning Department, The Civic Centre, The Water Gardens, Harlow, CM20 1WG

A public exhibition has been arranged on Tuesday 29th March between 7pm and 9pm at Old Harlow Arts and Recreation Centre to provide residents the opportunity to view the proposals contained in the document.

All written responses should be received by 5pm on 2nd May 2011.

▲ KIDDI CARU: Youngsters at the nursery in Kiln Lane, Harlow, got into the party mood when they took part in a Mardi Gras fiesta.

Dressed in brightly-coloured clothes, the group celebrated with a creative day listening to carnival music and making Mardi Gras masks.

Acting manager Amee Hume said: "The children really enjoyed the day. They got to be really creative and made some fantastic masks.

"We like to put on these special themed days as it is really good for the children. Not only do they have fun and a bit of a party, but it also helps them to learn about equal opportunities and about different celebrations and festivals that go on in the world." (photo: HAR0718235) ► PASSMORES: Pupils cha-cha-cha-ed their way to a healthier lifestyle by taking part in a Latino-inspired dance masterclass. Year 7 children at the Tendring Road school got a taste of latest South American dance fitness craze when instructors from Zumba Harlow agreed to take part in the pupils' flexible P.E. session.

Teaching a routine designed for youngsters aged four-12, the high-energy Zumbatomic class was choreographed to increase focus and self-confidence, boost their metabolism and enhance co-ordination.

Instructor Nikki Bentley said: "We all really enjoyed ourselves. Most of the children were really enthusiastic and keen to carry on with more classes outside of school."

"Being a mother of three, I understand how important exercise is for kids. Zumbatomic uses dance moves, games and confidence building exercises to ensure all the kids have a great workout, but also learn that exercise is fun." (s)

◀ STEWARDS: Year 8 pupils at the Parnall Road secondary had an out-of-this-world experience when they learned about what it takes to be an astronaut.

They started the day with a game of Who Done It? which involved some of them dressing up as aliens and using teamwork and scientific evidence to unravel mysteries.

Their linguistic skills were then put to the test when they discovered astronauts had to be able to speak English and Russian, before finding out more about the most appropriate clothing for space travel and the different types of rockets and shuttles.

A school spokesperson told the Star: "The pupils were fascinated to learn more about space travel, especially when they found out that anyone can be an astronaut as long as they are fit and healthy!"

Adders slip away

A SNAKE that is native to the UK could soon be hiss-tory, according to new research suggesting they are vanishing from our countryside.

A nationwide survey by the Amphibian and Reptile Conservation Trust found that the adder has been slowly disappearing from its traditional habitat since 2007.

Worried wildlife experts now believe that adders – the UK's only poisonous snakes – might need conservation to prevent them from dying out.

It is thought the snakes are killed because people believe they are deadly – even though their venom is not powerful enough to cause serious problems for humans.

The ARC Trust says their decline may also be a result of disturbance of their natural habitat.

Adders aren't the only reptiles in trouble, though. The study also found that numbers of slow worms – often mistaken for snakes because of their size – common lizards, grass snakes, common toads and common frogs are dwindling.

The only species among reptiles and amphibians found to be increasing in population was the palmate newt.

Killer stalks the Moot Hall stage

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

A THRILLING tale of bloodlust and murder is sure to strike fear into the hearts of aspiring thespians when it opens at Moot Hall in The Stow next week.

For the thrills and spills of Murder In Company, written by Philip King and John Boland, will be uncomfortably close to home for the Moot House Players.

After all, the titular murder takes place during an am-dram group's rehearsals for - you've guessed it - a thrilling tale of bloodlust and murder.

As the cast assemble in the local hall to rehearse under dictatorial director Philip Stevens, clashes and strains within the company are seen to more than equal those in the play they are about to present.

Romantic dalliances between cast members lead to the possibilities of blackmail, and to add to the confusion there is a "prowler" on the loose attacking women at random in the town.

The rehearsal continues under ever-increasing difficulties as events spiral out of hand and one of the company is found dead. But was it murder or accidental death?

Although the authorities are unwilling

DEADLY SERIOUS: Margaret (Angela Hodgson) tries to stop her young lover Alan (Mathew Truman) from attacking blackmailing hall caretaker Smith (Alan Hodgson) in Moot House Players' production of Murder In Company to treat the death as suspicious, a shadow of doubt lingers among the cast as almost everyone had a motive to arrange the tragic "accident".

Director Jon Macnamara said: "This promises to be an evening of absorbing entertainment with the added bonus of seeing how a company works in the rehearsal situation - although, in general, Moot House Players rehearsals are normally far less eventful!"

The show opens on Thursday, March 24 and runs until Saturday, March 26, with performances starting at 8pm. Tickets priced at £8 (unwaged £6) are available from the box office on (01279) 639170.

Folding back the years to another life

TONY RAE

If your experience of hypnosis is limited to watching hapless audience members humiliated live on stage by a mind-mangling maniac with piercing eyes, it's only natural to be wary of a man who claims he can use similar techniques to help you rediscover your past lives.

After all, if a stage hypnotist can use their powers to convince an otherwise sane person to strut around pecking at the floor like an oversized chicken, why couldn't the same methods be used to make that person believe he once fought valiantly at the Battle of Hastings?

The difference is in the use of suggestion, according to celebrity hypnotist and past life regressionist Tony Rae, who brings his intriguing one-man show to Harlow Playhouse next Thursday (March 24).

Whereas a hypnotist might use suggestion to affect a powerful subconscious change, Tony claims his techniques merely put the subject into a trance-like state from where he can help them access repressed memories of a past existence.

"When I take someone back they first have to be completely relaxed," he told the Star. "I bring them to a state similar to that we all experience just before drifting off to sleep and then ask simple questions about their previous lives.

"I might ask what they are wearing, what year it is or what their profession is, but I never use the power of suggestion to lead them to an answer."

He believes phobias, personality traits and attitude problems can all be explained by experiences in past lives.

"A lot of the choices we make in this life may have been influenced by things that have happened in a previous existence. I've helped people come to terms with their fears and problems by taking them back to the source."

"I've taken people back as far as 3,000BC, and there have even been occasions when clients have started speaking fluently in a foreign language they have never learnt in their current life!"

"Of course people will be sceptical of past life regression but I would invite those sceptics to witness the technique first-hand. After all, seeing is believing."

The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £16 (£14 concessions) from (01279) 431945.

HARLOW PLAYHOUSE
Playhouse Square, Harlow
(01279) 431945

>>circus The notorious Circus Of Horrors returns to the Playhouse tonight (Thursday) with a stomach-churning new show celebrating its 15th bloody year. Featuring some of the wildest and weirdest performers on Earth, The Four Chapters From Hell promises to be a deliciously depraved night out. Performances begin at 7.30pm and tickets cost £18 (£16 concessions).

>>drama Global Productions return to the Playhouse Studio tomorrow (Friday) with their award-winning adaptation of Harold Pinter's brooding black comedy The Dumb Waiter. The one-act play combines pathos, tragedy and dark humour as hitmen Gus and Ben wait patiently for their next victim, the silent suspense broken only by their bickering and the occasional rattling of the dumb waiter in their room. The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £14.50 (£12.50 concessions).

>>family Dazzling demonstrations and extraordinary experiments are guaranteed tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday as new educational extravaganza Science Museum Live explodes onto the Playhouse stage. Dynamically staged with interactive sets, inventive designs and pyrotechnics, the show is suitable for ages seven and above. Performances begin at 2pm and 6pm and tickets cost £12.50.

>>music Barry Walker's Smackee present a spellbinding show featuring showtunes from West End hits including The King & I, Les Miserables and Phantom Of The Opera. Sunday's show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £16 (£14 concessions).

>>comedy Men Behaving Badly star Neil Morrissey will share stories and anecdotes from his glittering showbiz career in new stand-up show Celebrities Stripped Bare. The popular actor will also answer questions on everything from his first film role to his new hobby as a real ale brewer. The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £16.50 (£14.50 concessions).

>>drama Inclusive theatre group Razed Roof present a new production developed around something close to all our hearts (and bellies!) in the Playhouse Studio next Thursday and Friday. Food! has been written for the group by playwright Judith Johnson and funded by The Big Lottery and Harlow Health Community Trust. Performances begin at 2pm and 7.30pm, and tickets cost £8 (£5 concessions).

ST JOHN'S ARC
St John's Walk, Old Harlow
(01279) 442447

>>music The popular programme of lunchtime musical concerts continues at the ARC tomorrow (Friday) with a harp and oboe recital from Harriet and Caroline Adie. Doors open at 12.45pm for lunch and the performance begins at 1.30pm. Tickets cost £4 (including lunch).

>>books The ARC hosts a talk and reading by popular crime writer Sara Paretsky as part of Essex Book Festival tomorrow (Friday). The author is best known for her detective novels featuring private eye V.I. Warshawski. The evening begins at 7.30pm and tickets cost £10.50 (£8.50 concessions) from (01206) 573948.

>>music Swing by the ARC next Thursday (March 24) for a jazz blowout as Rod Mason's Hot Five team up with local drumming ace John Petters to get the joint jumping. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £10 from (01406 365731).

Ski resort rom-com is snow-bound to please

ICE MAIDEN: Felicity Jones plays a former skateboarding champion who finds a new lease of life on the ski slopes when she gets a job as a chalet attendant in a posh Alpine resort, in CHALET GIRL

CHALET GIRL certificate 12A 1h36m

FELICITY Jones confirms her reputation as one of our brightest acting talents in this life-affirming comedy about a young woman's struggle to vanquish her inner demons. The Birmingham-born actress effortlessly slaloms between slapstick and heart-tugging emotion in what is a predictable yet unabashedly crowd-pleasing script. There is an honesty to the performance which compels us to root for her embattled heroine as she searches for love across the class divide.

Tomboy skateboarding prodigy Kim Matthews (Jones) abandons the sport she loves after her life is touched by tragedy, settling instead for a humdrum job in a fast food restaurant so she can take care of her hapless father, Richard (Bill Bailey).

In order to earn more money, Kim accepts a position as an Alpine chalet attendant at the highly exclusive St Anton resort. Within minutes of arriving, she is put in her place by resident queen bees Georgie (Tamsin Egerton) and Jules (Georgia King).

However, the new girl makes an immediate impression on playboy Jonny Madsen (Ed Westwick), son of wealthy, jet-setting couple Richard (Bill Nighy) and Caroline (Brooke Shields) who are renting the chalet that Kim has been hired to maintain.

Sadly for Kim, he already has a snooty girlfriend, Chloe (Sophia Bush), who accompanies Jonny everywhere with her brother Nigel (Nicholas Braun) in tow.

Love across the class divide poses obvious problems plus there is the addition distraction of a $25,000 first prize in a snowboarding challenge, which reignites Kim's competitive spirit.

Chalet Girl whisks up a cocktail of frothy romance and effervescent sporting triumph against adversity, garnished with an upbeat contemporary pop soundtrack.

Jones is completely believable as the grief-stricken good girl who struggles to fit into her rarefied new surroundings, while Egerton and King summon two more posh harpies from the repertoire and Bailey milks easy laughs as the slovenly father who promises to bathe once a month.

THE LINCOLN LAWYER certificate 15 1h58m

BASED on the novel by acclaimed crime writer Michael Connelly, The Lincoln Lawyer is a courtroom thriller about a man of the law who conducts his business from the back of his Lincoln town car, driven by a former client in order to pay off outstanding fees.

Defence attorney Mick Haller (Matthew McConaughey) is used to representing the dregs of society but thinks he has hit the jackpot when he accepts the case of wealthy estate agent Louis Roulet (Ryan Phillippe), who is accused of assault and attempted murder.

The evidence points to lies spun by the supposed victim and Haller and associate Frank Levin (William H Macy) prepare for a relatively easy war of words with prosecutor Ted Minton (Josh Lucas).

However, cracks appear in Roulet's version of events, giving Haller cause for concern as his robust defence comes apart at the seams.

As the case continues, Haller looks to a similar prosecution involving convicted felon Jesus Martinez (Michael Pena) for inspiration.

Hall Pass Maggie (Jenna Fischer) and Grace (Christina Applegate) are sick and tired of their husbands Rick (Owen Wilson) and Fred (Jason Sudeikis) ogling other women. So at the suggestion of their friend Dr Lucy (Joy Behar), the women grant their spouses 'hall passes' for one week. Rick and Fred hit the town with pals Gary (Stephen Merchant), Hog Head (Larry Joe Campbell) and Flats (JB Smoove) in tow while Maggie and Grace leave town with the children and babysitter Paige (Alexandra Daddario) to find some pleasing distractions of their own.

Unknown Dr Martin Harris (Liam Neeson) travels to Berlin with his beautiful wife Elizabeth (January Jones) to attend a conference, but as they arrive at the hotel Martin realises he has left a briefcase containing his passport at the airport and jumps into a taxi to retrieve it. En route, there is a freak accident and Martin slips into a coma, waking four days later in hospital with fractured memories. Discharging himself from hospital, he races back to the hotel and is delighted to find his wife... except she doesn't recognise him and another man (Aidan Quinn) with the same name is on her arm.

Rango A lonely chameleon (voiced by Johnny Depp) is stranded in the desert where he meets an iguana called Beans (Isla Fisher). She takes him to the town of Dirt, which is on the brink of collapse because the water supply is running dangerously low. Wandering into the saloon, the chameleon re-christens himself Rango and pretends to be a famous gunslinger, who killed several critters with a single bullet.

Location The Stables, Gilston Park, Gilston, near Harlow

Category Two-bedroom, end-of-terrace stable block conversion

Additional Stunning interior features, en suite facilities, well-stocked garden, use of 13 acres of grounds including two tennis courts

Price £375,000 - £400,000

Agent Haart, 4 West Gate, Harlow. Telephone (01279) 443311

SET in the stunning communal grounds of Gilston Park, this week's cover property is a delightful and extended end-of-terrace stable block conversion sitting in a corner plot garden.

Gilston Park is off Pye Corner adjacent to High Wych. The development occupies superb mature gardens of approximately 13 acres and enjoys the use of two tennis courts.

Originally Gilston Park House, it is now a tasteful development of apartments and houses. The stables were converted into eight units and this particular property has been sympathetically extended to provide extra living space.

Stunning wooden floors, exposed beams and vaulted ceilings are just a few of the fabulous features that make this property so desirable.

There are two bedrooms, one with en-suite facilities, as well as a separate bathroom.

The stunning lounge has a vaulted ceiling and a very attractive brick fireplace with solid fuel burner. The dining room also has a vaulted ceiling and doors opening out onto the garden, making this a very light and spacious room.

A private parking area provides space for up to four vehicles.

There are well-stocked gardens to the back and side of the property, as well as a terraced entertaining area.

IF you're looking for a new home, how many properties should you look at?

It's a question that many people ask and surely it comes down to individual circumstances.

One buyer may be set on a certain location and might only want to view properties within a particular village, for example. Others may be governed strictly by their budget and will be led by their perception of the best value for money.

Apparently our memory improves dramatically after consuming carbohydrates but slows after eating sugar. So it might be a good idea to go house hunting after a carb-heavy meal and leave out the sugar in the tea!

On average, the maximum number of homes a buyer is said to be able to cope with in one day is seven. Any more than that and you probably won't remember specific details about any of them!

If you are looking for a new home in this area and circumstances dictate that you need to carry out viewings back-to-back in a short space of time, it might be a good idea to take notes as you go round and, immediately after leaving, rate each home you've seen on a scale of 1 to 10 so you can refer back to your list at leisure.

Local Property Comment

Alan Howick

Open days, do they work?

They can be very successful, we have experienced a number of outstanding results recently but, there is a very BIG BUT!

First of all you must be new to the market and most importantly, you must make the price very attractive to encourage results.

That means be brave with your asking or guide price. Results suggest you need to make sure your price is between 5% & 10% below the average asking figure in your area for similar homes.

Don't worry, your not 'under selling' your being competitive and encouraging buyers to come along and look.

Finding a buyer means you can go out into the market as a strong purchaser and get a deal that normally compensates and more, in your favour!

Be positive, be competitive and you'll probably be successful as well!

It's well worth the effort, give us a call for more ideas to help you sell...and quickly!

New Focus is a polished performer

By Iain Dooley

EVEN if you don't claim to be a car enthusiast, it would be hard to ignore that the Focus has been a huge hit for Ford.

It's been an almost permanent fixture at the top of the sales charts since its original launch and been the benchmark others have been judged by ever since.

So what's new? In a nutshell, everything. Now positioned as a world car within Ford, this Focus will be sold around the world. That brings economies of scale and is one reason why the car can be had with a range of good value optional equipment packages such as an impressive safety kit bundle.

There's also a greater emphasis on economy and emissions, with the range kicking off with a 109g/km diesel and the promise of more to come in the future. Engine stop-start technology plus the use of Ford's new EcoBoost petrol engines and fuel-sipping DSG Powershift gearboxes add to Ford's frugal approach to motoring.

It's not a hair shirt experience, though. In keeping with other recent new Fords, the Focus is a polished performer inside and out. Visually, this third generation car boasts a more streamlined and slippery profile, while inside there's an equally high quality approach to fixtures and fittings.

FACTfile

Ford Focus 2.0 TDCi
163 Titanium X 5dr

from £22,745
(range from £15,995)

Engine: 2.0-litre diesel unit developing 163bhp
Transmission: 6-speed manual driving the front wheels
Performance: Top speed 135mph / 0-62mph in 8.6 secs
CO₂ emissions: 129g/km
Economy: 56.5mpg

The cabin is noticeably driver-centric, with the car's major controls close to hand. There's also no shortage of information available to the driver, what with a pair of superbly clear electronic displays – one for the audio unit and one between the main dials.

Fans of the old car will feel right at home thanks to a familiar feel to the various types of switchgear. Newcomers will be faced by a more upbeat and engaging experience than what's available in some rivals as the overall cabin ambience is lighter and brighter than the traditional German opposition. It takes more than a cursory glance around the cabin to fully appreciate the lengths Ford has gone to in order to maintain its class-leading status. The same is true out on the road as, initially, the experience appears to have shifted considerably more towards comfort.

What has Ford done with the car's sporty and engaging character? In truth it never left, only this time it's been cleverly contained in a more refined and composed wrapper. Push a little harder in a corner and you'll soon experience some of the old Focus magic. Everything is so darn polished now – Volkswagen and the like should be worried.

Considerable praise should also be directed towards the engine department. Ford is offering 1.6 and 2.0-litre engines in both petrol and diesel form, in a range of power outputs. In petrol guise there's a choice of 105, 125 and 150 horsepower, while diesels run from 115 to 140 and 163 horsepower.

Predictably, the highest output diesel motor scores well if you plan on racking up the miles. Its flexible nature makes light work of long distances and its six-speed manual gearbox can be swapped for a DSG-style auto if you wish.

Ford's petrol motors have improved beyond all recognition in recent years. As a willing, free-revving alternative to the more frugal diesel units, such engines prove ideal for shorter, stop-start journeys and boast less weight, which further enhances the car's agility.

As the old saying goes, power is nothing without control and the Focus isn't short of systems to keep you and the car in check. Apart from the predictable abundance of airbags this Focus can be had with some interesting Volvoesque features, which shouldn't be a surprise considering the two were once very close.

Packaged as a bundle of features, you get a blind spot warning, lane departure alert, city speed auto braking function and a speed limit sign reader that displays the relevant information in the electronic fascia readout. It was only a few short years ago that such technology was the preserve of expensive luxury cars and makes the inclusion in a 'regular' family hatch a big deal.

You can thank Ford's economies of scale approach for the decision and look forward to more of the same in the years to come with other new Fords.

Make no mistake, this Focus is a supremely competent and attractive car. It might take a few minutes – and a few miles behind the wheel – to fully appreciate the progress made by Ford's engineers but when you do you'll be pleasantly surprised by what's been achieved.

The combination of big-car refinement and equipment levels, a rounded and polished driving experience and an engine range offering real world savings are just a few of the many highlights. Even in uncertain times, if its performance is anything to go by this Focus is destined to be another chart-topper.

WE CAN'T TELL YOU WHAT VA VA VOOM IS.

BUT WE CAN TELL YOU WHERE TO FIND IT.

Va Va Voom is back at Ware Garage.

To celebrate visit us and take advantage of the additional savings on the Renault range.

The official fuel consumption figures in mpg (l/100km) for the Clio Renaultsport 2.0 VVT are: Urban 25.0 (11.3), Extra Urban 44.1 (6.4), Combined 34.4 (8.2). The official CO₂ figure is 195g/km.

ASX- The new crossover from Mitsubishi Just the right size to...

Big enough for a horde of excitable kids, yet small enough to cope with rush hour, the new ASX has been designed for real people with real lives. At home on city streets or open country roads, the higher driving position, class-leading interior space and assured handling have been intelligently packaged to create an agile and versatile family car. And the low CO₂ engines, Auto Stop & Go, energy efficient tyres and advanced alternator control will reduce the size of your carbon footprint, saving you money to spend on living. We call this intelligent Motion.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Call Adrian or John on 01707 391333

Telesales Executive

We have an exciting opportunity for an ambitious money hungry sales person looking to further their career & make some serious money within the IT industry selling a huge range of IT hardware, software & services.

The successful candidate would be expected to cold call a set number of potential new clients per day until you have built up your own client portfolio that you will manage with a view to achieving the maximum revenue.

Sales experience & a good phone manner is essential for this role, IT product knowledge would be beneficial but, not essential as product training will be readily available. In return for your hard work, drive & enthusiasm you will be provided with:

- * An excellent basic salary & uncapped OTE!
- * Fabulous prospects for career progression
- * Working for an established name in the industry selling high end good & services
- * Working in a friendly & fun filled environment

Accuro is an established, successful local charity that provides a range of services for children & adults with a disability & their families. It is a professional yet friendly organisation with a deserved reputation for delivering high quality services & which has a genuine commitment to the support & training of its staff & volunteers.

Accuro now has vacancies for support workers with three of our projects:

Accuro's Adult Friendship Scheme requires community support workers (CSWs) in both the Harlow & Uttlesford areas & a senior support worker/deputy project coordinator to work in one of these areas. The role of CSWs is to enable adults with a disability to access a wide range of leisure and social opportunities on either a 1:1 or small group basis. The senior post will also involve taking responsibility for organising activities & possibly for the supervision of a small number of staff/volunteers.

Accuro's Under 19 Project, based in the Uttlesford area, has vacancies for people willing to provide support on a 1:1/small group basis for young people aged 11 to 19 as a means of enabling them to access community based leisure & social activities.

Accuro's recently established "Sitting Service" has vacancies for family support workers (FSWs) in the Uttlesford & Harlow areas &, in particular, in the Epping Forest area. FSWs engaged in this service care for children with a disability in the child's own home thus allowing their parents to have an evening out, etc. An appropriate qualification to at least NVQ Level 2 is required for FSW posts.

All of these posts are part-time, will involve some evening work & some may require work at weekends. Hours however are often flexible & can be worked on an ad hoc or regular basis. Salaries for these posts vary according to the different roles & to the skills/experience of the people appointed to them.

Appointment to all of the above posts is subject to applicants successfully undergoing our Safe Recruitment Process that will include the taking up of enhanced CRB checks.

For more information about Accuro please visit www.accuro.org.uk

For more information about one or more of the above vacancies please contact Accuro by: telephone on: 01279 433117 or e-mail at enquiries@accuro.org.uk

Effect of the order: To temporarily close Harlow Common, North Weald
Bassett, in the District of Epping Forest, from its junction with Mill Street, west, for a distance of approximately 100 metres.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 21 March 2011 for 4 nights between the hours of 19:00 and 07:00, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while Atkins working on behalf of the Highways Agency undertake resurfacing works and bridge expansion joint replacement.

Access for emergency vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The alternative route will be via Mill Street, Hastingwood Road, A414
Canes Lane, A414 Roundabout, A414 London Road, Harlow Common and vice versa.

The Order will come into effect on 21 March 2011 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Yim Kong, Assistant Director for Highways, County Hall, Chelmsford.
Dated: 17 March 2011.

Public Notices

Essex County Council

Essex County Council hereby give notice that from 1 April 2011 they will become responsible for the management of the English National Concessionary Travel Scheme (National Bus Pass) within Essex.
By consequence, Essex County Council will become a Travel Concession Authority responsible for issuing of bus passes and for holding the database of pass holder information for those resident within the administrative boundary of Essex County Council. The use of the data has not changed. District council offices will still be dealing with applications for bus passes. If you have a concern please contact Essex County Council on 0845 743 0430.

TO PLACE

Harry's happy Tayl!

which beat his previous attempts over the past two years (knocked out at the last 32 stage last year).

In the last 16, Harry won the first frame by 40 points against Ryan Coswell from Wales.

Breaks of 20 and 25 kept Harry in contention in the second frame which Harry clinched by potting a long black.

Ryan won the third frame, but Harry took the fourth to go through to the last eight.

Harry then lost 3-0 to eventual winner Daryl Hill from the Isle of Wight (seeded no 2 in the UK) in the quarter-final.

The Harlow youngster played well but could not contain Daryl's long potting skills.

Harry took away a trophy for reaching the last eight and a cheque for £25. He is now seeded 5th in the 14 and under category for the United Kingdom.

Harry's father added: "Harry played particularly well in the last 16 but he gave me a few more grey hairs."

Then Harry was a losing finalist in the South East U-18 English Association Billiards and Snooker regional event at Brighton. He won two out of three group matches and then the last eight and semi-final matches.

Harry is in 10th place after five of six stages of the regional tour.

Angler Heads off with haul

JUNIOR member Ryan Head was quite literally Head and shoulders above the rest as Stort Valley Angling Society held its annual trophy presentation evening at Burnt Mill Snooker Club.

Ryan picked up 11 trophies including the Junior Points Cup for the Harlow club.

Danny Cruse enjoyed an excellent season, lifting 12 trophies including the Senior Challenge Cup, Poole Cup and the Pete Harris Points Cup.

In addition he also won four of the 10 monthly coach outings.

Club secretary Bob Groom also had a good season, winning five trophies plus the annual 'Special' outing, which last season was held at Bewdley on the River Severn.

Nick Jones, with a magnificent chub of 4lbs 13ozs caught locally on the River Stort, won the O'Brien Trophy for best fish of the season.

The Junior Knockout Cup was won by Shaun Dodson.

Malcolm Gregg was adjudged to be the 'Most Improved Angler' of the year.

Other winners were Alan Heywood, Bill Beehan, Mick Westby, Ross Deadman, Steve Beehan, Chris Rees, Derek Dampney, John Dodson and Andy Turnbull.

Bowen ready for lift-off

AN UPBEAT Luke Bowen declared "it's good to be back" as he clambered onto a speedway bike for the first time since his season was cut short by a horror injury.

The 25-year-old Harlow rider suffered a broken right forearm in a fall during a Rye House Rockets fixture against Birmingham last June.

Bowen took part in three days of practice at the Hoddesdon track ahead of the opening Anglia Cup fixture at Ipswich tonight (Thursday), with the return leg at Rye House this Saturday (7pm start).

He told the Star: "My arm feels strong, I've been on the motorcross bike at North Weald over the winter and practice here has gone pretty well so far. There have been no ill effects."

"I'm feeling fit and just want to get the first few meetings out of the way and get my head back in it."

"The injury last season was a nightmare. I just got going with some good scores and broke my arm. I had the operation and thought I would be back in eight to 10 weeks but each time I went back it didn't seem to be progressing. It was only fully healed in December."

"The aim is hopefully to win some trophies for the team, but at the moment I'm just trying to concentrate on getting myself going."

Bowen also became engaged to girlfriend Rachel on Valentine's Day, but denies that he is ready to be a fully-fledged family guy just yet.

"I'm not having children just yet, but we're moving in together next month, so things are changing - I've got responsibilities!"

15 wins for super Clapton

THE undefeated league record of Upper Clapton was maintained as they strolled to a 46-5 home victory over May & Baker in Essex League division two.

However, it was the visitors that went ahead after 10 minutes on Saturday when an excellent line-out move led to an unconverted try.

Clapton bounced back with Danny Smith scoring a try converted by Brett Ross (7-5).

James Hack then scored an unconverted try for Clapton whose lead was increased by good forwards' work leading up to a try scored by Tim Matthews.

Ross kicked the conversion and Clapton led 19-5 at half-time.

After the break, home prop Clinton Dorling ran in an unconverted try from 40 yards, before Tom Roberts scored a try in the corner.

Pablo Beccera then scored the best try of the game as he beat five visiting players to touch down.

Ross kicked the conversion.

Smith and Roberts then scored tries for the hosts, both of which were unconverted.

Clapton, who have won all 15 matches, have one more league game left when they play Stanford le Hope away in nine days.

Lucie Gibson.

Number eight Claire Lacey scored two tries and full-back Abigail Perry ran 60 yards for a great try. Other try scorers were Davina McLellan, Leah Dixon Kelly Cotterill and Nikky Millman.

Rams suffer 60-point mauling

Romford 68, Harlow 7

RFU London division two NE

THE gap between the top and bottom sides was again illustrated as basement side Harlow slipped to a heavy defeat at third-placed Romford & Gidea Park.

Harlow had been hammered 62-0 at home by second-placed Baintrey 12 days ago.

There was no mercy shown as the Rams were outgunned and conceded 60+ points again on Saturday.

Harlow have only pride to play for in their last three games.

Rams director of rugby Lee Harron said: "We are trying to work towards a more expansive style of rugby for next season and we did put together some good passages of play and one got us a try."

"The scoreline was poor and two-thirds of the guys are not willing to work hard enough in defence and put their bodies on the line. You have to work harder in defence than attack."

The tone was set early on at Romford. After a home prop was sin-binned for stamping, the visitors failed to capitalise on this advantage and conceded an unconverted try.

Romford extended their lead through an unconverted try on 16 minutes through a backs break after several attempted tackles by Harlow were shrugged off.

The hosts then cut loose, scoring three tries between the 23rd and 28th minutes.

Two were converted and Romford led 29-0.

Romford then scored two more unconverted first-half tries, with the second coming after the visitors were robbed of the ball.

Romford scored 10 more points before Harlow showed what they can do.

Michael Dobson made a great break before offloading to Luke Bowring who powered his way through for a try.

Dobson kicked the conversion.

Romford then scored an unconverted try and after some Harlow resistance the hosts' superior fitness told as they scored two further tries.

Both were converted. HARLOW: Mackie, Bates, Alderman (Woodington 70), L. Bowring, Webb, Dobson, Powell, Branch (Lane 52), Romaine, Cunningham, Twinner, Palmer (Blackwell 60), M. Bowring, Drake, Eynon.

Darts

TYE Green Whites shared the points with Staple Tye Colts in a 4-4 draw - Whites' sixth stalemate of the season.

Doug Thomas hit 180 for Colts in this Harlow & District Premier Darts League match.

Servo Link beat Moot House 8-0 in spite of 180s from Moots' Alan Webber and Paul Devereux. Link's Ron Green shot two 180s, while Jeff Etherington finished on a bull's eye in his 108 outshot.

Crusader lost 6-2 at home to Tye Green Foxes. Phil Cox had a 116 outshot for Foxes and Tom Taylor had a 100 outshot for Crusader.

Other results: Golden Swift 3, White Admiral 5; Small Copper 6, EZAPint 2; Stow Snooker 8, Colt Hatch 0.

Enfield seal third win over Hawks

IT was not third time lucky for Harlow Hawks as they lost 75-73 at Enfield Merces in the semi-final of the Herts County Cup.

Hawks had been beaten twice by Enfield in the league this season and were unable to reverse the trend on Friday.

Hawks started the better with Nick Moss leading the way with five early points and a couple of assists that resulted in mid-range jump shots for Simon Atkinson.

The Hawks also played well in defence and led 15-10 going into the second quarter.

Hawks continued to move the ball well and attack the basket for easy scores inside and the Hawks seemed to have the answers to Enfield's tactic of pounding the ball inside to their big men.

Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz nailed his first of nine 3-pointers as he put on a shooting clinic from outside.

Hawks led 29-21 at the halfway stage.

However, the visitors became sloppy and their lead was taken from them despite Shab Niaz scoring four three-pointers.

Hawks trailed 47-45 going into the last quarter and Enfield enjoyed a 10-2 run before the Hawks fought back.

Shab Niaz managed another four three-pointers and the Hawks were down two points with 13 seconds left and called time out.

Harlow then drew level (71-71) after Nick Moss made both pressure spots count.

Subsequently, Enfield ran the length of the court for a lay up to take the lead.

With just four seconds left Hawks had one last tough shot which fell short and Enfield progressed to the final by the narrowest of margins.

HARLOW HAWKS: Shab Niaz (29 pts), Moss (13), S. Atkinson (8), Allan (7), L. Atkinson (6), Z Niaz (6), Oyerinde (2).

However, Harlow should have gone down to 10 men three minutes later.

Luke Marshall's quick throw sent Emiel Aiken clear through on goal, but the big striker was hauled down by the even bigger Hawks debutant Daniel Brown on the edge of the box.

The Harlow central defender escaped with a yellow card.

Ware lost defender Wayne Dooling after 14 minutes with a suspected broken ankle from an aerial tangle with Harlow left-back Danny Brown.

The hosts equalised on 28 minutes when Luke Marshall's cross was fired home by Dan Roles.

Ware went 2-1 up on 72 minutes. Danny Brown brought down Marshall in the box and Matt Mitchell smashed home the spot-kick.

Six minutes later, Harlow equalised. Dave Cowley set up Roache who had enough space to divert the ball past Obey Murefu.

Four minutes later the floodlights enjoyed their cameo performance but there were no further goals.

Viva la Rouge in cup final

Rouge Lyon A 5, St Germaine 3

Harlow & District Football League, Division Four Cup final

AN emphatic four-goal first-half display provided the springboard for Rouge Lyon's victory over St Germaine in the Division Four Cup final.

Rouge went ahead after 12 minutes of Sunday's final at Bishop's Stortford FC.

Steve Larch tucked home from close range before the advantage was doubled two minutes later.

Larch's effort was parried by Rouge then netted through Larch's second goal on 20 minutes before Ellis's 20-yard shot nine minutes later put them 4-0 up.

Rouge's lead was increased on 57 minutes when Michael White smashed home a well-executed free kick.

St Germaine bagged two goals on 61 and 67 minutes.

Billy Devenney atoned for an earlier miss when he finished off a good move before Ricky Brickley added a second six minutes later.

St Germaine made it 5-3 on 77 minutes. A corner produced a goalmouth scramble before Lee Exley clipped the ball into the net.

Boss off as Thames barrier breached

Harlow Tn 2, Thamesmead Tn 1

Ryman, division one north

By ALAN SCOTT

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman was sent off but it failed to upset his side as they stretched their unbeaten run to six league games.

Dave Cowley's double was enough to give Harlow Town a narrow victory.

This win moved Harlow up to sixth, just a point behind fifth-placed Maldon & Tiptree - occupying the last play-off place - with two games in hand.

Serrano is a type of ham in Spanish - and he was a pig of a ref as far as Harlow were concerned!

Constant stoppages and silly free-kicks, made this a fractious and scrapy game.

The only light in a dark tunnel was offered by Cowley who opened the scoring with a delightful chip on 21 minutes.

Thamesmead keeper Sam Mott came out to clear, but only succeeded in finding Cowley.

The midfielder showed some lovely composure to go round one defender before chipping the rapidly retreating stopper from 25 yards.

But the visitors levelled on 40 minutes when a free-kick from the right was flicked on by Andy Constable for Stuart King to head in past a statuesque defence.

Chapman, who had words with the ref at half-time, was dismissed just four minutes after the break allegedly for swearing at him, an accusation he strenuously denied.

Bertie Brayley went close with a delicious volley before Harlow snatched the points on 65 minutes following Getro Kilapi's dazzling run.

You felt the towering midfielder might lose the ball at some stage but as one path and then another opened up before him, he eventually made his way into the box. His centre from the right was missed by both sub Lee Roache and Brayley before Cowley smashed the ball into the bottom left corner on 65 minutes.

Constable went close with a half-volley on 79 minutes, while at the other end Brayley was unlucky not to add to Harlow's tally when he curled a shot around the right post on 87 minutes.

Harlow defended well in the latter stages to grind out the victory but will have to play much better if they are to finish in the play-off places.

Chapman said: "I don't think it was complacency. It was one of those days; we did not play as well as we have done. The goal was disappointing.

"We came out with another three points. We defended really well. Dave Cowley had an excellent game."

HARLOW TN: Hasell 5, Barnard 5 (Taylor 65, 5), Danny Brown 7, Roget 6, Gledhill 6, Kilapi 7, Ferguson 6, Lalite 4, Brayley 6, Antoine 5 (Roache 62, 6), COWLEY 8. Subs not used: Peagram, Daniel Brown, Wheeler. Att: 184. Yellow card: Taylor (time-wasting).

Athlete gold - then hospital!

DAN Yaxley had to go to Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow after he won a gold medal at the Essex County Indoor Championships.

The 20 year-old Harlow College student was suffering from suspected kidney stones after he set a personal best (PB) time of 52.3 seconds in the 400m junior final at the Lee Valley Athletic Centre in North London on Saturday.

St Nicholas student Zoe Benton won two golds in the U-13 girls Zoe in the 60m hurdles final (10.53secs) and the long jump (3.93m).

Burnt Mill School student and Harlow AC member Jack Christy, on his competition debut, achieved an excellent 2nd spot in the U-15 boys shot put (10.79m).

Other Harlow results: silver medals - Ryan Dunne (15) Mark Hall - U-17 boys 1,500m final PB 4 mins 33 secs; Tyler Bown (16) Mark Hall - U-17 boys 200m 23.75s (PB indoors).

Bronze medals - Sam Bengie (17) - U-20 men's 800m PB of 2:04.94.

Heats: 4th Polly Woods (18), Harlow U-20 women's heats 63.4s. Sunday (Highams Park, Chingford): Alicia McArdell (13) - fastest lap in the U-13 girls Chingford relays (4:27 in 1,300m); Rosie Poole (11) Stewards School - 4:43 in 1,300m; Jodi Ratcliff (12) Mark Hall - 4:46.

● HARLOW Running Club member Richard Solomans clocked an excellent time of 2hrs 30mins 51 secs in the Surrey 20-mile race at Dunsford Aerodrome near Cranleigh.

Lights dim on play-off quest

THE lights did not quite go out on Harlow Town's play-off bid but they certainly dimmed in Tuesday's derby which was hit by TWO separate power cuts.

Harlow had to settle for a draw after a late finish caused by a floodlight failure.

The Hawks were drawing 2-2 with eight minutes of normal time left when two sets of floodlights short fused and went out.

Ware 2, Harlow Tn 2 Ryman, division one north

An overheating wire was blamed for blowing the fuse. After a seven-minute delay, the referee called over both managers to consider abandoning the match but it was re-started just a minute later.

Ware boss Tony Faulkner, the officials and the players seemed keen to continue in the dimmer light, but Harlow manager Danny Chapman wanted the game ended.

Such a late abandonment would have probably seen the result stand, giving the play-off chasers a single point rather than the three they could have snatched with a late goal.

Chapman said: "At the end of the day you couldn't see anything. The floodlights are there for a reason. One player had already been injured badly in the game and we didn't want another one getting injured.

"I'm sure that if the game was called off at that point, the result would have stood and we knew that."

Harlow went ahead after only four minutes when Leon Antoine flicked the ball into the box for Lee Roache to fire coolly into the bottom corner.

Boss could face touchline ban

FUMING Hawks boss Danny Chapman will consider an appeal if he is handed a four-match ban by the FA.

The Harlow Town manager was sent off just after half-time in Saturday's 2-1 league win over Thamesmead Town.

He had had words with referee Anthony Serrano at the break, and was dismissed for using foul and abusive language minutes into the second period.

However, Chapman denies swearing and fans behind the dug-out vouched for the Hawks boss.

"He has officially sent me off. He doesn't have to show a manager a red card. His reason for sending me off was that I used foul and abusive language, but I didn't. We have to decide whether I appeal or just get on with it," said Chapman.

"I have never been sent off for what he said [using foul and abusive language]. Whether they [the FA] take that into account? I did not swear at the bloke. He gave a free-kick against us. Two minutes later the same thing happened to us and [he did not give that decision] so I just asked him to be consistent.

scotta@hertssexnews.co.uk

"It was the way he said 'shut up' to me. I said 'if you want respect you must show respect as well'. I said 'let's get on with the game' and 10 seconds later he sent me off. Their [Thamesmead's] bench got abusive later in the game but he never took any action whatsoever. I will take it on the chin."

At first, Chapman stood outside the players' tunnel at the opposite side of the pitch, but the referee again asked him to move and he eventually sat in the stands.

The incident will have been included in Serrano's report and previous cases have seen the FA dish out a four-match ban. If Chapman appeals - and loses - his suspension could be even longer.

His hearing should be heard later this month or in April.

POT THE LOT: Harry Green (HSP0717643)

Harry's happy Tayl!

HARRY Green has been given a few boosts to his burgeoning snooker career.

The 14-year-old Mark Hall School student played former World Champion Dennis Taylor in an exhibition match at Chelmsford Snooker Club.

Richard Green, Harry's father, said: "It won't be long before Dennis Taylor will be commenting on Harry when he makes it as a professional snooker player."

"He [Taylor] gave him a couple of tips on his style."

Harry then went on to reach the last eight of the 14 and under Pontins Stars of the Future, before reaching his first final in the U-18 regional tour for the English Association Billiards and Snooker.

The Pontins tournament in Prestatyn, North Wales saw him take on the top players from England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

Thirty-two players attended the event with four groups of eight battling it out in the round robin stages.

Harry won four, drew two and lost one and qualified for the last 16

Defender quits while another joins Hawks

LEFT-back Sacha Opinel, left, has quit the club after a six-month spell to return to his old club, Burgess Hill Town, in Ryman division one south.

The Waltham Abbey-based defender will not be replaced as Danny Brown has been doing an excellent job at left-back, while Harlow Town boss Danny Chapman also has Mark Taylor as cover.

"We came to the decision that it was best for him [Opinel] and best for the football club. We wish him all the best and thank him for what he's done for Harlow Town Football Club," said Chapman.

"Danny Brown has done an excellent job at left-back and I see no reason to change it."

Chapman has signed former Ebbsfleet central defender Daniel Brown (26) from Aveley. He was on the bench against Thamesmead. "He is a very good addition to the squad. We need cover in certain areas," added Chapman.

Utility player Clark Akers will miss the rest of the season with a persistent knee problem. "Clark saw a specialist. He tried to play on with it, but it's not fair to him and the football club if he can't perform to the maximum. We took a joint decision for him to sit out the rest of the season and come back in pre-season raring to go."

Harlow visit lowly Redbridge in Ryman division one north this Saturday, before a trip to Cheshunt on Tuesday.

The Hawks were held to a draw against Redbridge only a fortnight ago and Chapman is keen to avenge this blemish.

"In the first half [against Redbridge] we were very disappointing, but in the second half if we had taken our chances we would have won the game."

Harlow are unbeaten in seven matches. "We are still up there," added Chapman.

Central defender Laurie Stewart (ankle ligament damage) returns to the squad along with striker Che Stadhart (knee).
